I apologize for my delayed response. Things were a bit hectic, and it has no reflection on our desire to meet with you and your team. We are looking forward to doing that on these next possible dates.

Good Day George!

Thank you for your response. Andrew and Kelly provided me with an update this morning on your productive meeting.

I am certainly looking forward to meeting with all parties to discuss the Emergency Services Program to assist you. Joining me will be one of our DCED Emergency Services Peer Consultants.. I will check with him to find out his availability and circle back to you sometime tomorrow with some potential dates and times. Finally, I know I suggested an in-person meeting initially, however, if a virtual meeting would work better let me know that too.

Thank you, Yvonne

Please feel comfortable in calling me by my first name, George.

Our meeting went well with the DCED today. Ian didn't make the call, but Andrew and Kelly handled it as you would expect.

We discussed having you down and would like to move forward with that to explore any assistance your department might be able to offer.

We would like to have our President, Mayor and Finance Chair as well as our Chief of Police attend the meeting if that is okay with you. That being said all of those individuals may not be able to attend once a date is chosen.

Is there a day/time that works best for you in the next couple weeks? If you could offer a couple dates that would help me to arrange our side.

Thank you for your follow up and we look forward to meeting you in person.

Sincerely

Good Morning Mr. Locke,

I wanted to circle back with you to find out if you are ready to schedule an in-person meeting to discuss updates on the status your police department and more importantly talk about ways the Emergency Services Program can assist you. I am aware that you will be meeting with the Center for Local Government Services Southeast Policy Specialist, Ian Mahal today. He will be providing you with information related to the DCED programs, more specifically the STMP program. He did include me on the invite but unfortunately I am out of the office today.

Again, upon your availability, I would like the opportunity to explore opportunities that will prove beneficial to your Borough's Public Safety Services. I am looking forward to assisting you.

Mr. Locke,

It was a pleasure to speak to you earlier regarding the services provided by DCED Center for Local Government Services. Again, my name is Yvonne Lemelle, Local Government Policy Manager. As discussed, I have oversight of the Public Emergency Services Program which includes Police, Fire, and Emergency Medical Services.

The technical assistance our office provides focuses on helping communities make informed decisions related to public safety. The goal is to not only improve coverage of their emergency services but to enhance it.

I was delighted to hear that you were familiar with our most recent efforts involving the Eastern Regional Mon Valley Police Department. Regionalization of emergency services certainly has been a topic of increasing concern in Pennsylvania. Our completed reports support the need for regionalization from both a cost perspective and a presence of first responders.

My team is looking forward to addressing you, Jenkintown's elected officials and/or the Police Department with a preliminary meeting. The intent of this informational session is to have everyone in attendance come away with a better understanding of opportunities for change, regional collaboration, DCED assistance available, and of course to hear from you.

This meeting can be conducted in small groups, such as individual municipality meetings, or tailored to your audience and specific needs. Let's discuss next steps at your convenience. Again, I am looking forward to working with you.

May 8, 2024

Honorable Mayor Gabriel Lerman
Jenkintown Borough
700 Summit Avenue
Jenkintown, PA 19046

Mayor Lerman,

I wanted to take a moment to express my sincere gratitude for the recent meeting that convened, May 6, 2024. It was our pleasure to meet with you, Borough Manager Glen Locke, Police Chief Thomas Scott and Council President Jay Conners to discuss Jenkintown Borough Policing. My TEAM walked away truly impressed by your insight and the direction the conversation took.

It is important to strengthen relationships between and among elected officials, emergency services providers and the community to establish mutual trust and credibility. It is the key to mitigating any obstacles associated with politics, personnel and public perception. Municipalities must be committed to the idea, otherwise they will find 100 reasons not to make it work. You allowing the Emergency Service Program TEAM through the DCED's Center for Local Government Services to have a seat at the table will undoubtedly assist with building your capacity and increase efficiencies.

Respecting the sensitive nature of some of the issues you are currently dealing with, we appreciate the level of transparency by providing details of the current policing environment in Jenkintown Borough. This will certainly help us determine the next steps. I want to remind you that there is no cost to the municipality for our services.

As a quick recap, we discussed our intent to help you develop manageable viable options that will help Jenkintown make an informed decision regarding public safety for your municipality.

Here is a brief summary of the initial next steps to move forward:

- Provide a list of Labor Attorneys.
- Complete Letter of Intent (LOI).
- Financial and ancillary data collection.
- Cost to Benefit Analysis to address sustainability.
- Identification of options for local policing.

It is our objective to remain focused on achieving our goals and helping your community decide what makes sense for them. We don't want to let a quick decision impede a good decision.

In the meantime, please do not hesitate to reach out to me or other members of the team for support. We are excited to make this partnership happen and to achieve the goals we discussed.

Police Services Meeting

We will plan to meet again following the Letter of Intent's approval at your next public meeting to develop further strategies. Please feel free to reach out with any questions, concerns, or relevant updates in the meantime.

Jenkintown Police and Borough Solvency: A Better Approach

I. Introduction

We, the members of Jenkintown Matters, present this document in response to the efforts of Jenkintown's administration to dissolve the Jenkintown Police Department (JPD) and outsource policing services to a neighboring municipality, particularly Abington Township.<sup>1</sup> As part of these efforts, the administration recently voted to ask a state agency biased towards regionalization to perform a cost-benefit analysis on all of Jenkintown's public safety services.<sup>2</sup>

Our research has documented that the administration began discussions about the department's dissolution during the spring of 2023. In July 2023, the Jenkintown Borough Council met with Bellevue Communications, a public relations firm. On July 26th, without public deliberation or explanation of this agreement, Council voted unanimously and without public disclosure to contract with Bellevue to help the administration plan its response to the expected public reaction to the news of its plans to dissolve the JPD.

Information obtained from a Right to Know request shows that two days after the Bellevue contract was approved, George Locke, Borough Manager, discussed the possibility of outsourcing Jenkintown's police service with Abington's Town Manager, Richard Manfredi.<sup>3</sup>

The timing of this meeting coming nearly two months before the start of its negotiations with the Jenkintown Police Benevolent Association (JPBA) appears designed to give the Borough administration sufficient time to work out a preliminary agreement with Abington Township and to give it leverage over the JPBA. As we have documented, Abington's leadership have shown no interest in the proposal.<sup>4</sup>

When local media reported the existence of the Bellevue contract in early February of 2024, the administration was forced to hold two public meetings to defend its actions. It additionally held a restricted and questionably legal third meeting with residents of the Beaver Hill condominiums. Members of the administration also met privately with some concerned citizens.

During these meetings, the administration attempted to make its case that:

1. The JPD is financially unsustainable, and
2. JPD officers are ineffective and ethically compromised.

This response intends to dispute both of these allegations.

II. Fiscal Sustainability

Police Budget

According to the administration, the police budget is “roughly $2.5 million, which includes insurance and other costs.” This would constitute less than half of Jenkintown’s general fund budget, which the administration claims is an unreasonably high percentage.<sup>5,6</sup> However, Jenkintown’s non-benefit-related police spending “ranks roughly around the median and is mostly consistent with the other boroughs,” according to a 2023 economic report by Jeremy Crimmel, PhD.<sup>5</sup> It is unclear whether benefit-related police spending is higher than in other boroughs. If this is indeed the case, it is an issue which should be dealt with directly by addressing benefit costs. It should also be noted that, because the figure of $2.5 million supposedly includes “unfunded liabilities” not listed in the budget, it is impossible to independently verify. It has also been claimed that the police pension is included within the figure, but the Police Pension Fund’s revenues do not appear to come from taxation.<sup>6,8</sup>

Sewer System Repairs

Another sustainability-related argument used by the administration is the cost of Cheltenham’s future sewer repairs, for which Jenkintown will be partially liable. Specifically, the administration anticipates “$2.4 to $11.9 million” in sewer-related costs.<sup>5</sup> This is on top of the approximately $1.1 million in sewer-related debt which, according to the latest DCED report, is on the Borough’s books.<sup>9</sup> For comparison, the president of the Borough Council claimed in a public meeting that the Borough might save up to $500,000 dollars a year by outsourcing the police department. Based on this information, it appears the sewer represents a much more dire sustainability issue for Jenkintown than does the JPD.

Other municipalities in similar situations have made the decision to sell their sewer systems, earning large sums of money in the process. In some cases, they received significantly more than their asking price. For example, in 2015 the residents of Springfield Township were expecting an increase in their sewer rates from slightly over $4 to around $9, prompting them to sell their sewer system. They initially asked for $9 million but, according to the Philadelphia Inquirer, ended up collecting $16.5 million as a result of bidding. The residents’ sewer rates did eventually increase by around the same amount that they were expecting prior to the sale, but they were able to pay for parks and a new municipal campus as a result of this process.<sup>10</sup>

It is important to note, however, that other municipalities have had less favorable experiences, seeing considerable increases in their rates. Although this is certainly not a decision which Jenkintown should make hastily, disbanding the JPD without exploring this option would be premature. Otherwise, Jenkintown may find itself forced to sell its sewer system even after outsourcing its police department.

Public Works Employees

A third sustainability-related argument put forth by the administration is that more money is needed to pay Public Works employees. Although it may be true that the Public Works employees are paid less than those in surrounding municipalities, aside from issues of fairness, we believe it unnecessary to sacrifice eleven JPD employees to fix this issue.

Reserve Fund

A fourth sustainability-related argument made by the administration is that the Borough does not allocate enough money to its Reserve Fund. Specifically, the administration claims that it currently allocates 5% of its revenue for this purpose which, according to them, “is bare minimum.”

Instead, the administration sets the Borough’s target allocation at 10%.<sup>5</sup> While this may be a commendable goal, reaching it via the JPD’s dissolution seems extreme. We urge the administration to seek solutions that raise revenue and increase economic activity in the business district before embarking on draconian measures that target an essential community resource.

Capital Projects Fund

The final sustainability-related argument commonly referenced by the administration is that the Borough lacks the resources to adequately fund capital projects. This does not hold up under scrutiny; projected revenues for the Capital Projects Fund increased by over 305% between 2023 and 2024. Most of this money is derived from grants.<sup>6</sup>

It appears, however, that in both 2022 and 2023 the fund’s actual revenues were significantly under-budget. In fact, the Borough had to transfer $120,000 from the General Fund to the Capital Projects Fund in 2023, six times more than what was budgeted for that year.<sup>6</sup> Rather than seeking to transfer yet more money intended for the General Fund by dissolving the JPD, the administration should focus on promoting long-term economic development along with securing grants.

While grants will provide a quick-fix to the problem, they often come with strings that erode Jenkintown’s independence. The Town Square, for instance, seems like an asset to the community, but it can never be developed into something that generates revenue for the Borough and School District. A strategic approach to guiding development is the time-tested method of making communities sustainable. One only needs to walk through downtown Hatboro to see the resulting benefits.

III. Personnel

In addition to the aforementioned sustainability-related arguments, the administration also advanced without evidence personnel-related arguments in defense of their position.

Crime Rate Comparisons

The first of these arguments call into question the JPD's effectiveness. On numerous occasions, the administration suggests that the JPD is incapable of adhering to "21st Century Policing" standards and is, therefore, unable to meet the public's expectations.<sup>5</sup> Although every organization has room for improvement, the idea that the JPD is an ineffective department is simply not borne out by the data. To begin with, Jenkintown records a lower crime rate than either Abington or Cheltenham. The administration claims that this is an apples-to-oranges comparison because Abington and Cheltenham have large malls.

Jenkintown has its own crime-promoting factors, however. For example, in neither Cheltenham nor Abington can one find as high of a concentration of bars and taverns. Additionally, Jenkintown's many wealthy homes and businesses make attractive targets for theft. Jenkintown is also home to SEPTA's Jenkintown-Wyncote train station which, according to Wikipedia, is the ninth-busiest station in the regional rail system (out of 146 stations), and the fourth-busiest outside Philadelphia.

Finally, Jenkintown's entire business district is located along the Route 611 corridor, a four-lane highway which, according to PennDOT, funnels up to 24,000 vehicles between Philadelphia and the PA Turnpike daily.

As well as managing Jenkintown's crime rate, the JPD appears to be remarkably successful with regards to community policing. Many in the community feel a strong bond with these police officers, and an online search does not reveal any published complaints against the JPD from community members. The administration has thus far failed to provide any evidence in support of their claims that the JPD is ineffective.

Smeal Report

The administration has, on many occasions, cited the audit authored by W. Ronald Smeal, Police Management Consultant (the Smeal Report) to suggest that the JPD is ineffective. Mr. Smeal was retained by the administration to provide an overview of the JPD's structure and performance, as well as recommendations aimed at improving the department.

In his forward, Smeal notes that "Management studies, by their very nature, often appear somewhat negative and highly critical", and that "shortcomings must be addressed more fully than the positive aspects of police operations".<sup>11</sup> In other words, consultants that don't find problems aren't doing their job, but the administration ignored these disclaimers and implies that the report and its 90 recommendations justifies the dissolution of the JPD.

We further take note of Smeal's stated biases. In an article published in the York Daily Record, he has stated that his purpose in life is to regionalize law enforcement. At a meeting with the Southern (PA) Regional Police commissioners in 2017, he declared "I eat, sleep and live regionalization."<sup>12</sup>

Careful examination of the list of recommendations contained within the report demonstrates that many of them are easy fixes. One recommendation is to "Purchase relevant publications" for JPD officers and supervisors. Another advises that the "Mayor should continue to work jointly with the Chief of Police" to plan for future challenges affecting the JPD. Three items in the list pertain to a K-9 unit which no longer exists.<sup>11</sup>

Nowhere in the report does Smeal recommend that the JPD be dissolved and outsourced, nor did he make this claim when he was given the opportunity to address Jenkintown residents at one of the administration's public meetings.

Professional Ethics

Another personnel-related argument promulgated by the administration is that JPD officers are unethical. One example often cited by the administration is the accumulation of "Kelly hours". Kelly hours describe a form of bankable overtime but compensated at the same rate as regular time, rather than time-and-a-half.

The Borough's argument ignores the fact that the administration has never insisted on a police contract which stipulates that Kelly hours must be paid out yearly, despite an opportunity to do so at every single contract negotiation. It also ignores the fact that the administration set a precedent of paying out accrued hours, doing so for past officers who either resigned from the JPD or were furloughed. The administration missed an opportunity to address this issue in 2017, when three JPD officers approached certain officials to discuss department-related issues, including the build-up of Kelly hours. The officers' warnings were ignored.

A second example referenced by the administration is that JPD officers are paid for a full 12-hour day, even when attending training sessions lasting for 8 or 9 hours. This training pay is contractual. If, instead, JPD officers were only reimbursed for 8-9 hours every time they go on training, it means that they would lose 3-4 hours of pay in each of those instances. If the Borough wishes to encourage JPD officers to receive as much training as possible, this policy seems counter-productive.

The administration has also called the JPD's ethics into question by insisting that officers within the JPBA have refused to negotiate fairly during the ongoing round of contract negotiations. Specifically, the administration claimed that it "Provided a very fair offer to the PBA with a base pay increase" but, despite this, "The PBA stopped negotiations and walked away from the table".<sup>5</sup>

What the administration fails to mention is that the “base pay increase” in question did not even constitute a cost-of-living adjustment. When benefit-related changes are also considered, the administration’s proposed contract represents an enormous decrease in the actual yearly wage of a JPD officer. When it became clear that the administration had no intention of budging from its position, the JPBA filed for arbitration.

IV. Conclusion

Although the administration has tried to present numerous arguments in defense of its attempts to dissolve the JPD, in our assessment, none of them justify drastic measures that erode the independence of our community.

The JPD is a 130-year-old institution that has earned the trust of Jenkintown residents. While we have no reason to doubt about the policing abilities of the Abington force, we not only find it difficult to envision officers from an outside organization displaying the same level of dedication to Jenkintown as does the JPD, we have proven it unnecessary and impractical.

Finally, we know that Abington Township will not assume the policing duties for our town. We expect Council to explain why it doesn’t remove this option from the table. What was the real purpose of its bid to disband our police force?

Jenkintown Matters, along with the people of Jenkintown, will continue to stand together in opposition to the administration’s plan to dissolve and outsource the JPD or any proposal that jeopardizes the wellbeing of our community.

Hi All,

Attached are the municipal financial stats which I received from Mike Williams at the Mun Stats office. I included all the boroughs in the four suburban counties, including Montgomery County, with populations between 2,000 and 8,000 (approximately 3,000 above and below Jenkintown's population). He was only able to provide the stats from 2022 as those from 2023 are not yet completed. There are a total of 48 boroughs in this group as you will see on the report. I did not include any crimes or criminal stats at this time but we can add them if needed. The boroughs are sorted by county first and then by descending population. Please call me if you have any questions, comments or suggestions on any of this information. Thanks, Joe.

Good morning Kell and Frederick

We will get this signed and back to you. I do have one question on the wording of the following sentence.

“The Municipality has requested, through action of the governing body, the services of the CENTER to provide a cost of analysis study of the Jenkintown Borough and report to the Manager and the elected officials on the findings and recommendations.”

Is this sentence complete and how it is intended to be written? Or was it supposed to read the Jenkintown Borough Police Department?

Thank you for this clarification.

Sincerely

George Locke

Jack/David,

It was nice to meet you today! Below is the necessary information for you to start. As mentioned, please reach out with any questions as you go.

1. Attached is the template for the data we need to collect for the individual fire stations
2. Also attached is a list that I think is a decent starting point for individual counties

Below are the “Counties of Interest”

Allegheny County

- David should use the following website as the basis for the data Fire Departments - Allegheny County, PA
  - This should be all of the stations
  - You might even be able to get creative with Excel to pluck the name and address right from the list and drop into Template – if you are able to do that, and do not need Google Maps at all, don’t worry about filling in the X,Y as I can do what’s called geocoding and get the X,Y from the addresses (although this costs credits AKA money in the GIS world)
    - NOTE: PO Boxes do NOT help us so you will need to find the locational address of those ones

Beaver County

- Jack should be good to start on this right away
- This link should be good for Beaver County Beaver County PA - Fire Services
  - Note that I do not necessarily put, for example, Station 91 with Aliquippa BUT I do put Stations 1, 2, and 3 for Brighton Township
    - AKA if they have more than 1 station include the number

Clearfield County

- Jack should be good to do this one too
- This link should be good for MOST of Clearfield County <https://www.clearfield911.com/content/fireinfo/>
  - I am not quite as optimistic this one is 100% since it looks like it was last updated 4 years ago
    - Therefore, hopefully this list, reconciled with the attached FDID list and Google Maps, should yield a positive result
- If unable to locate, some other, a less reliable source to reconcile against are:
  - https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/List\_of\_Pennsylvania\_fire\_departments (this is for all of the stations in PA allegedly – you are welcome to use this to reconcile but just be aware that this is Wikipedia)

Crawford County

- Someone can start on Crawford County
- This link should be good for Crawford County I believe
<https://www.crawfordcountypa.net/PublicSafety/Pages/Fire-Departments.aspx>

Cumberland County

- Someone can start on Cumberland County
- This link should be good, to some degree, for Cumberland County
<https://www.cumberlandcountypa.gov/87/Fire-Companies>
  - HOWEVER – this is just departments not stations so make sure we are checking for multiple stations within the companies/departments

I think this should get everyone started. Please let me know as questions come up.

Also, I have a message out to the GIS Administrator to see if she would prefer you to collect X,Y or if I can geocode, AKA use credits, for the ones that it may apply to (the ones where you aren't using Google Maps anyways because you know without a doubt they are 100% correct).

Thanks,

Craig Lewis
GIS Peer

Hi Everyone,

I called Mike Williams at Mun Stats and he sent this information to me this morning. They have Jenkintown's 2023 but it's not available on-line yet from them (see all attached). I think this will give you even more up-to-date information for the report. Their reported 2023 police budget is still only at $1.9 million. Call me if you need anything else. Joe

Good morning Joe-

I received your voicemail, and have attached Jenkintown Borough's 2023 DCED Annual Audit and Financial Report (AFR).

I've pulled specific data from this 2023 AFR to match the format of the previous (2022 AFR) data:

Police Expenditures	Total Expenditures	Police % of Total
$1,933,499	$7,623,034	25.36%

(Total Expenditures of all funds $8,035,085 minus Trust and Agency Fund Total Expenditures of $412,051 = Total Expenditures of $7,623,034)

Feel free to reach out with any questions.

Regards,

Hey Mike, Hi, this is Joe Kirchner from DCD. We talked a couple weeks ago. You gave me some stuff. The stuff you sent me was perfect by the way. Thank you. I got a good report, compiled everything and I already got it off to the to the people that are doing that other study But I just had a question on that study we're doing. It's about Jenkintown. Do you happen to have anything for 20/23 that they submitted? I know nothing's online yet, but if you have anything from Jenkintown Borough in Montgomery County for 20/23 or for that matter, obviously 2024 wouldn't be in yet. But if you have 2023 for them, if you could send it to me or e-mail it to me, or you could give it to me over the phone, whatever you could do, that would be handy. My cell number is [REDACTED] And again, that's for Jenkintown Borough in Montgomery County for 2023 if you have it. Thanks, Mike. Bye bye.

You received a voice mail from +12155655086.

Fred,

Thank you for your detailed response. I will let you know if and when they submit their STMP application, which I am expecting.

I just noticed it was in my personal account, so I copied my gov email - no worries. Rather have two emails than one.

Thanks again,

Ian

F. Police Facilities

The Police Facility is part of the Borough Building. There are ten rooms totaling about 2500 square feet of space. The rooms are assigned by task: Admin Assistant office/Public Window, Patrol Operations room, Detective/Investigation office, Break/locker Men's Locker room, Evidence/Storage/Kitchen, Cell room (two temporary cells), female locker room, unisex bathroom, bulk storage, Chief's office, Sgt. Office/server room. The police facility schematic is not beneficial to a more modern police structure. A plan to address evidence storage, bulk storage, and a legitimate interview room are in the process.

This agreement (“Agreement”) is between the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, Department of Community and Economic Development, Governor’s Center for Local Government Services “CENTER,” the municipality of Jenkintown Borough (“MUNICIPALITY”), and an agent of the CENTER, selected and certified through appropriate training courses (“Peer-to-Peer CONSULTANT”).

WITNESSETH

The Municipality has requested, through action of the governing body, the services of the CENTER to provide a Police cost analysis study of the Jenkintown Borough and report to the Manager and the elected officials on the findings and recommendations.

The CENTER will to provide the MUNICIPALITY with technical assistance through the use of the Peer-to-Peer CONSULTANT under the following terms and conditions:

- A. MUNICIPALITY, through its officials, employees, or agents shall provide the CONSULTANT with material, data and/or information determined by the Peer-to-Peer CONSULTANT to be necessary for the successful completion of the project.
- B. MUNICIPALITY and the CENTER shall permit the Peer-to-Peer CONSULTANT to determine his/her hours of work and work periods so long as the total time committed to the project does not exceed 100 hours.
- C. The CENTER is responsible for the wages, travel cost, and related expenses of the Peer-to-Peer CONSULTANT and no cost will be assessed to the MUNICIPALITY unless assessment prohibition is waived by the MUNICIPALITY through an addendum to this Agreement, in which case the addendum shall establish the party(ies) responsible for Peer-to-Peer CONSULTANT costs and expense.
- D. The CONSULTANT agrees to provide to the CENTER, evidence that his/her employer does not object to the CONSULTANT’s role in providing technical assistance to the MUNICIPALITY and that such assistance will be provided during the nonworking hours of the CONSULTANT’s employer.
- E. The MUNICIPALITY shall hold the CENTER and its agent, the Peer-to-Peer CONSULTANT harmless from any and all claims, demands, and actions based upon or arising out of any activities performed by the MUNICIPALITY employees under this agreement and shall defend any and all actions brought against the CENTER and/or the Peer-to-Peer CONSULTANT based upon such claims or demands. The MUNICIPALITY'S standard liability insurance policies shall protect, or shall be endorsed to protect, the CENTER and the Peer-to-Peer CONSULTANT from claims of bodily injury and of property damage arising out of any activities or functions performed by the MUNICIPALITY, the MUNICIPALITY employees, or agents under this agreement.

- F.
